Dear [Consumer Name],

We are excited to inform you that we completed the personal background check you ordered on [date]. Please understand that this letter does not constitute legal advice and any information pertained in is for informational purposes only.

This OmniPersonal Findings report is separate from your actual background check report and is primarily created to reflect any derogatory information we found. The reason we have included this report separately is to indicate the following:

1. The actual background check report is what the employer will see.
2. This report is to reflect any information that we did find and why it is or is not included in your background check report we have furnished to you.

Findings:

- On [date], you were convicted of [crime] in [state]. You were sentenced to [sentence].
- On [date], you were arrested for [crime] in [state]. The charges were later dropped.

Explanation:

We did not include the information about your arrest in your background check report because the charges were dropped. However, we have included it in this report for your information.

It is important to note that employers may have different policies on whether or not to consider arrests in their hiring decisions. We recommend that you be prepared to discuss this information with any potential employers who ask about it.

Statement of Rights:

You have the right to request a review of any derogatory information in this report within 5 days of receiving it. If you dispute any of the information, please contact us in writing at [email address] or by filing a dispute online at <https://getdispute.com/>. We will investigate your dispute and provide you with a written response within 30 days.

If you do not request a review within 5 days, this report will become final and the information will be included in your background check report.

Enclosures:

1. OmniPersonal Background Check Report
2. PreAdverse Action Letter
3. A summary of your state, local, and FCRA rights

If you have any questions about this report, please do not hesitate to contact us.

Sincerely, [Your Name] [Your Title]

OmniPersonal
